

Knoxville Weekly Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 16, 1870.

SPECIMEN COPIES

Of the CHRONICLE mailed free to any address on application.

Marriages.

Only two couples were married in this county last week.

Personal.

Mr. Peter Staub, Swiss Consular Agent, left yesterday for Grundy county.

Recorders Court.

The city is remarkably quiet and the Recorder was troubled with no disturbers of the peace yesterday.

Republican Daily.

We understand that a new daily paper, Republican in politics, will be started soon in Chattanooga.

Killed.

A young man named Thomas Broome was killed in an affray at Spring Town, Polk county, last week. No particulars.

Sevier County.

Sevier county all heard from, except one district gives Cooper 36 majority over Hamner, which elects him by about 150 majority.

The Market.

The city market is well supplied with produce in season. Meats are abundant and tender and juicy, and in fact the market is as well supplied with eatables as a reasonable person could desire.

Heavy Injunction.

The Chattanooga Times says that Hon. Dan. C. Trewhitt has applied for a bill in Chancery enjoining the removal of the county site of Hamilton from Harrison to Chattanooga.

Sabbath School Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the various Sabbath Schools in the city at the Lecture Room of the Second Presbyterian church this evening, for the purpose of rehearsing pieces to be sung at the jubilee next Sabbath.

Thanks.

Mr. John Inman, of Fair Garden, Sevier county, will accept our thanks for a handsome club of subscribers to the WEEKLY CHRONICLE. Send on your clubs, and we pledge our whole efforts to make you a first-class paper.

North Knoxville.

The religious revival in North Knoxville continues with unabated interest. A large number of converts have been made and will result in great good to the community, and large accessions to the church.

Rather Severe.

Judge Houk in his speech at the court house last night was rather severe on Col. Bixard, saying that a blizzard in German meant "a curse," and added that he had certainly been a curse to the Democratic party.

Fine Potatoes.

We were shown by Mr. Jett, yesterday, specimens of Early Russet Irish potatoes, the second crop grown this year—the first crop being planted in April. The specimens we saw were average sized and had never been worked.

The Weather.

There has been quite a change in the temperature within the past twenty-four hours, but we can't state the change with the exactness its importance demands as we have no barometer, hygrometer, anemometer, or even a thermometer.

The Celebrated Cook Stove, Fashion.

Combines all the modern improvements, with the largest oven, and the finest design pattern of any stove ever offered in this country; great economy in fuel, and reduction in price. Sold by Hoxsie &amp; DePue, 105 Gay street, Knoxville. nov8-dttw2

Entertainment for the Delegates.

Notices were read in the churches on Sunday requesting persons who were willing to entertain delegates to the County Sabbath School Convention, which meets on Friday, to leave their names with Mr. J. A. Rayl, at the store of Rayl &amp; Boyd. A full delegation from the country is expected.

Emigrants.

A number of emigrants arrived in this city yesterday. They did not understand sufficient English to comprehend our friend Tom Bell, but by some kind of freemasonry understood signs made by another gentleman of our acquaintance, and followed him with the readiness of drilled soldiers.

Special Notice.

Emigrants for the South and West are informed that a daily train will leave Chattanooga at 8 P. M., for Memphis via Nashville, running through in twenty hours, without change of passengers or baggage. Time as quick and accommodations as good as on any other line, and at the same rate. Tickets for sale by Mr. Gaines Harrel every day at the depot.

Dramatic Performance.

Lovers of the drama will have an opportunity of witnessing a select performance next Friday night at Hoxsie's Hall, by the Knoxville Theatrical Corps. The play selected is Butter's celebrated "Lady of Lyons." The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the relief of the French widows and orphans.

Our Thanks.

To our friends throughout East Tennessee who have been so kind as to send us election returns, by telegraph or otherwise, we return thanks. We have been at considerable expense to gather the news, and feel that our enterprise has been duly appreciated. We are determined to always have the latest news regardless of cost or labor.

Folly.

To see men trying to make the printing business pay by publishing a newspaper for one dollar per year. The thing can't be done, and those who are attempting it will find it out to their sorrow, when it is too late. If they can't get a sufficient circulation to keep the thing alive, at two dollars a year, they had better stick a chunk of fire to their offices and then run away by the coming flames.—Cleveland Banner.

SPEAKING FRIDAY NIGHT.

Remarks by Hon. R. R. Butler, and other Leaders of the Republican Party.

The ringing of the court house bell last night summoned a large crowd to hear the Hon. R. R. Butler, Congressman elect from the First Congressional District.

Col. Brownlow was the first to address the meeting, and was followed by Judge L. C. Houk, who kept the crowd in good humor, until the arrival of Judge Butler, in his usual racy style. He retired and called on the Judge, who took the stand and told how he had beaten "Slick Jimmy" in his District, interspersing his remarks with anecdotes appropriate to the occasion. Alluding to the charges of corruption urged against him, Mr. Butler referred to his majority as a refutation of such slanders.

Mr. Butler is a fluent talker, and his remarks were enthusiastically received. Alluding to reconstruction, he deprecated the necessity of such action, but feared that it would have to come. He paid a graceful tribute to Hon. Horace Maynard as a gentleman and a statesman, and congratulated the voters of the Second District on securing the services of so able a representative.

Gov. Cooper was then loudly called for, and responded. He had taken the handle from the Hammer that was to knock him on the head, politically. He thanked the people for their votes, though he did not believe he would ever take his seat, as from present indications the Democratic party would have run the length of their tether by that time and reconstruction be a fixed fact. The General paid a flattering tribute to ex-Confederate soldiers, saying that he had rather trust the men who fought for the South on the battlefield, than the ultra Democrats, who persisted in rebellion now that the war was over.

W. F. Yardley, Esq., and Dr. J. B. Young were then called on, who responded briefly, acknowledging the compliment. Their remarks were well timed and temperate, and were most favorably received.

We have not attempted giving even a synopsis of the addresses delivered. They were all pointed, and Democracy was handled as roughly by the speakers, as was ever "perfidious Albion" by a French orator.

A transparency bearing the inscription "Reconstruction, 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments, now and forever, one and inseparable," lighted the entrance to the court house, and attracted considerable attention.

Western Travel.

The various railroad lines leading westward are in active competition for the travel in that direction, each offering every inducement to the traveler and emigrant. The agent of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Road is in this city, in the interest of that line, and we are informed that the Louisville and Nashville Railroad will send a gentleman to represent that route in a few days. Time and money are estimated at their proper value by the western roads, and the one offering the best advantages will be the favorite route.

Our Paper.

We ask our friends in Knox county to assist us in giving the CHRONICLE a wide circulation. For the purpose of enabling them to do this, we agree to receive in payment of subscription all kinds of produce at the market price. Bring your flour, wheat, corn, beef, pork, bacon, potatoes, &amp;c., and we will give you in exchange a live newspaper. The price of our weekly paper is only two dollars per annum, and we guarantee it shall give you satisfaction. We don't deal in cheap literature, but will always give you the worth of your money.

Collapsed.

It is said that James Robinson's circus collapsed at Nashville the other day, and failed to meet its appointments made ahead of that city.

Eastern Division Fair.

We call attention to the card of the efficient and energetic Secretary, Mr. C. W. Charlton, asking for aid in subscriptions to stock in the Eastern Division Fair. It is our opinion that the stock in less than two years will be at a high premium.

Our people by a three-fourths have expressed themselves in favor of a bridge across the Holston river, which is destined to be a source of revenue to the county, as will also the Division Fair, if the proper interest is manifested in it.

Coming to our Aid.

To our proposition to raise $3,500 as stock in the Eastern Division Fair, the citizens of this city are responding quite favorably; still there is yet a considerable sum lacking, and, hence, the necessity of another appeal. Our application will be renewed the coming week. Don't turn us away empty when we shall make the application. Don't, we say.

C. W. CHARLTON, Secretary, &amp;c.

The German Fair.

We republish the committee appointed at the meeting on Friday night to make arrangements for the fair for the relief of the widows and orphans of German soldiers, Messrs. Benziger and Kern's names being omitted.

Professors Knabe and Haacker, P. Leidenhoffer, T. Hermann, T. M. Schleier, E. Goetz, V. Burger, Julius Ochs, J. Bissinger, L. A. Gratz, Rev. Mr. Heckle, John Scherf, J. F. Haupt, N. Kiefer, Benziger and Peter Kern.

The Way to Pat It.

An exchange thus compares farm products and newspaper bills, which is so favorable that we transfer it to our columns. If you are a farmer, and raised a thousand or fifteen hundred bushels of wheat, and had to trust it out to the bushel all over the country, would you not think that those you have trusted should make every exertion to pay you, so that you could get in your next year's crop and live while it is maturing? The printer is in the same predicament, and, taking the case home to yourself, don't you think you ought to pay him?

Murder at Memphis.

Charles Willis, a barkeeper, was killed by a boarding house keeper in Memphis, named Cosgrove, last Saturday night. The body had been hastily buried, but the grave was carefully guarded and a post mortem examination held, when the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts developed, that Cosgrove had murdered him.

HOME INDUSTRY.

Page &amp; Co's Boot and Shoe Manufactory.

Yesterday evening we went through the establishment of Messrs. Page &amp; Co., who are doing a heavy business in the manufacture of boots and shoes. The second floor of his house is occupied as a manufacturing department, and upwards of thirty workmen are busy cutting, stitching, pegging, sewing, treeing and everything in the making of a boot or shoe from the raw material to turning out a finished article.

The work is far superior to that made in the East, and a pair of brogue home-made costs but ten or fifteen cents more than Northern work, making them really twice as cheap. In fact, there is no comparison between them, and this the people are not slow to perceive it.

One man is kept busy cutting out soles and another heels, and all are made by machinery, yet as each machine is controlled by an experienced operative, it is equal to the best hand-made work, which it really is.

Immense piles of raw material—from the plant French calf skin to the heaviest sole leather—are to be seen, which is made up as fast as the present force of workmen can do so, and Mr. Page informed us that it is his intention to put twenty additional hands to work as soon as he can obtain them. A case of shoes are made every day and carefully packed to fill orders from Western North Carolina and other points, which are coming by every mail.

In addition to the wholesale manufactory, the retail department is kept up with its usual care, and ladies', gentlemen's and children's wear made in the best material, by the most skillful workmen. This department is made up as much of a specialty as ever, and we take pleasure in recommending the firm of Page &amp; Co. to the trade and to the public generally. Their establishment is on Gay street, in the building formerly occupied by R. H. Richards.

A Young Wife's Request.

Wife—Charlie, I wish when you come up tonight you'd stop into your druggist's and get me a bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS. Be sure and get the genuine.

Charlie—What in the world, Mary, are you going to do with Plantation Bitters?

Wife—Everybody that I know is in ecstacy over Plantation Bitters, and I am going to try them myself. I am assured by several of my friends that the Bitters will cure my dyspepsia, and at the same time do away with that terrible nausea which you know I am at times subject to. The doctor was in yesterday, and says that all I want is a tonic, and that Plantation Bitters is the best that can be got.

SHE MOSS FARINE from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Mange, Puddings, Custards, Creams, &amp;c., &amp;c. The cheapest, healthiest, and most delicious food in the world.

See Moss Farine sold by JOHN L. HENDRICKSON, Market Square.

Beautiful Ornament.

We were shown yesterday by Mr. Summers Van Gilder a beautiful rustic flower stand of his own design and construction. The stand is on castors supporting a miniature mountain and mill with a movable wheel. From thence a trunk of cedar extends upwards, supporting a circular table in which is a miniature lake with a grotto and tiny fountain, in the centre. On one side, raised above the surface of the lake is a rustic tank supported by an upright cedar trunk, capable of holding half a barrel of water connected with the fountain and by a pipe, and also with the race below, furnishing abundant water to turn the mill wheel, which when in motion carries out the idea of country life true to nature. On the lake miniature fish and water fowl are seen, rendering the effect exceedingly beautiful and picturesque. When completed it will be one of the most beautiful ornaments of the kind in the city.

Arrival.

It gives us pleasure to note the arrival in our city of A. D. Cox, Esq., lately of Butler county, Ohio, who has purchased—availing himself of the services of Charles Seymour, Real Estate Agent—a farm of some four hundred acres in Blount county.

Mr. Knox brings with him a flock of twenty-seven thoroughbred Cotswold sheep, whose wool is now worth more per pound than that of any other variety; he also brings some other good stock. We welcome Mr. Knox here, and hope that he may meet with such success as may induce others to follow his example. We have room for all good farmers that may come.

Dangerous Counterfeit.

We were shown yesterday a dangerous counterfeit by Mr. John S. Van Gilder, of the Knoxville Bank, which is well calculated to deceive the unwary. It is of the sixth series, of denomination of $20. The vignette is in the centre between the 2 and 0, the cipher touching the left shoulder, which it does not in the genuine. The bills are from new plates, but the lath work is defective, being dark and somewhat blurred. They are supposed to have been extensively introduced in upper East Tennessee, as considerable numbers are coming in from that direction, and an average of one each day is refused at the bank, as we are informed.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following are the transfers of real estate registered in the County Court Clerk's office during the past week:

W. C. Ingles to J. R. Wainman, lot in Knoxville, $15.
M. Nelson et al to L. L. Chidaway et al, lot in Knoxville, $200.
J. L. Moss to Louisa Corum, lot in Knoxville, $275.
M. L. Patterson, C. & M., to S. Munson, lot in Knoxville, $300.
G. W. Douglass to Lucy A. Acuff, lot in Knoxville, $40.

R. S. Payne &amp; Co.

Among the wholesale dealers in this city there are none more deserving of patronage than the above firm. Their stock is fresh and full in all lines, and country merchants will find it to their interest to deal with them.

The Bridge.

We learn that, after a close figuring of the returns of the Deputy Clerk of the County Court, Mr. Blang and Sheriff Goetz, the subscription to the bridge has been voted by the three-fourths majority required by law.

Lovers of the Weed.

To all whom these presents shall come greeting: Know all, that Capt. J. H. Walley, at the Knoxville Tobacco Store, has just received large additions to his stock of cigars, smoking and chewing tobacco and smoker's articles, embracing a splendid variety of fine meerschaum pipes, which are not to be excelled in beauty or design this side of Polak's manufactory in New York; and that isn't all, tobacco pouches of fanciful design and elegant finish, match boxes, cigar cases, ornamented Egyptian pipes with inlaid stems, the sight of which recalls the splendor of Cleopatra's court, as seen through the gathering mist of past generations, mingled with clouds of fragrant Latakia or choice Turkish. Go there before the stock is picked over and buy something nice for a Christmas present for some big brother, or some one you probably like better.

Photograph and Picture Gallery.

Mr. T. M. Schleier, the veteran artist, has moved to his new stand on Gay street, two doors north of Munson &amp; Bailey's office, where he is prepared to take any kind of a picture known to the profession, from a life-size photograph to a gem for a watch guard.

He has the largest stock of artist materials ever brought to this city in endless variety, albums, picture frames, &amp;c., &amp;c. Mr. Schleier has won for himself a reputation as an artist that he may well be proud of, and success does not cause him to relax his efforts, but on the contrary, is only an incentive to greater excellence. His prices are reasonable and his work is sure to give satisfaction.

Enlargement.

THE JOURNAL OF EDUCATION FOR NOVEMBER, comes to us enlarged to nearly the size of Harper's Weekly.

We rejoice with all others interested in the cause of Education, in these substantial evidences of interest and progress.

It is ably edited, and elegantly printed. Its circulation is now, over Six Thousand copies per month, and aids materially every Teacher and School Officer in the West and South in their work.

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary is offered as a premium for twelve subscribers. The most liberal premium ever offered.

Address: J. B. MARVIN, Editor and Publisher, 708 &amp; 710 Chestnut St., St. Louis, Mo.

To Advertisers.

There is a science in advertising. It is a business with as distinctive features, and requiring as definite application, breadth of experience, keenness of perception, and soundness of judgment as any commercial pursuit. It requires a more extensive acquaintance with the general needs of every branch of business, the development of the country, of trade in different localities, and of the best mediums for reaching the people, than any other single branch of business known. It also requires a correct knowledge of human nature, a comprehension of its various phases, and an adaptation as delicate, subtle, and sure as that of any successful salesman or trader in the land.

Excelsior Cook Stove.

We had occasion to visit the stove house of Atkin &amp; Coffman yesterday, an usually large stock of everything in their line used inside or outside a house. The display of goods was very fine, but the most noticeable feature was the celebrated Excelsior Cook Stove. With Coffman's improved back opening, and Mangle's long centre piece, which causes the gas from the coal to be consumed and prevents it escaping it is just the thing every housekeeper wants. The ovens are large and the doors lined with tin, retaining all the heat. The doors are provided with a slide draft, regulating the heat perfectly, and has a hinged ash pan, enabling the stove to be cleaned out without spilling the ashes. Go and see this kitchen treasure.

SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.

Day and Night Sessions.

Book-keeping, Penmanship, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Business Forms, and all branches of a thorough Business Education taught on the most approved plan.

Ladies' class in Penmanship on Saturday afternoon.

Prof. E. W. Scott, widely and favorably known as a teacher of Penmanship and Book-keeping, has returned to resume his connection with this College.

Tennessee Synod.

This body convened in Kingston on Thursday last—some forty ministers and elders being present.

Rev. P. M. Bartlett, of Maryville, was elected Moderator, and Rev. Mr. Gilbrath chosen as Temporary Clerk.

The session adjourned, on Saturday evening, to meet at Maryville, Blount county, the last Thursday in October next.

Improve Your Understandings

And enquire East Tennessee manufactures at the same time, by investing in

OUR HOME-MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

At the new stand next to Oldham &amp; Hunter's Drug Store, where we can convince you that Tennessee leather and Tennessee labor can compete successfully in both price and quality with Eastern work.

Patent Medicines.

Several years ago, when the majority of patent medicines were not so widely known or extensively used as at present, physicians frowned upon them, as infringements on the rights of the medical profession, and denounced them as the results of quacks. And many were indeed victims of their folly. But those that stood the test of time and proved its efficacy is Perry Davis' Pain Killer, which is an invaluable remedy for many complaints, and is now recommended by many of the best practitioners throughout the country. See advertisement in this issue.

Counterfeit Money.

Counterfeit 10s on the National Bank of Poughkeepsie, New York, are in circulation in this city and vicinity. The eagle is printed darker than in the genuine, and is on inferior paper. Spurious greenback 20s are also in circulation.

Sunday School Jubilee.

On Sunday, the 29th, it is proposed to have a grand mass meeting of all the Sabbath Schools in Knoxville, at 2 P. M. The exercises will consist principally of singing, and all the singers in town are invited to be present. We will give further particulars hereafter.

November.

Mothers who have daughters that have weak lungs, should arrest the disease when it is in the incipient stages. It is indicated by a hacking cough, pains in the chest, difficulty of breathing, or oppression of the lungs. If this be permitted to run on, tubercles will form, and consumption will be the result. A most valuable remedy will be found in Allen's Lung Balm to cure and check this disease in its first stage.

For sale by all Medicine Dealers.

Nov 11-dttw4

Railroad Matters.

The earnings of the Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad were incorrectly reported in the Nashville papers last week. We hereby present the correct returns, furnished by the Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. John L. Moses:

Earnings of the Road from September 10th, 1869, to October 1st, 1870, $70,055.07.

Actual operating expenses for the same period, $91,094.01.

Expenses for construction, equipment and buildings for the same period, $12,442.81.

The Court House Building.

The following contracts have been awarded for material to be used in the construction of the Court House and Postoffice building: M. F. Smith and others, for concrete and rubble stone, E. J. Sanford &amp; Co. for cement, W. C. Brandon for sand.

Full plans and specifications for the completion of the building are expected the latter of this week. Col. Mullett, Supervising Architect, will be here next week to look after the building.

Convicts for the Penitentiary.

Deputy Sheriff John Gibbs will leave to-day for Nashville, having in charge the following convicts for the penitentiary, sentenced at last term of the Criminal Court: Adam Ramsey, rape, ten years imprisonment. Adam Kern, larceny, five years. Mary Bowman, larceny, three years. Thomas Howard, burglary and larceny, ten years. Edward Clark, burglary and larceny, ten years.

Miles Logan, larceny, five years. Joseph Crookshanks, larceny, ten years. Jacob Luttrell, larceny, three years. Thomas Brown, larceny, three years. William Sands, horse stealing, ten years. All the above named prisoners are colored, except the last named, Sands.

Advertising.

A man who cannot afford to advertise, cannot afford to do business. A merchant prince said truly that a person investing one dollar in any kind of business, should spend a dollar in advertising that business.

ADVERTISED LIST

Letters Remaining in the Knoxville Post-Office, November 14, 1870.

Persons calling for these letters will please say "Advertised," and give the date of this list. If not called for within one month they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.
